DRAFT FOES BACK DELAY PROPOSAL

STORM AHEAD OVER GLOBAL AID IN HOUSE

Senate Measure to Encounter Opposition Over Size of Contribution.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 16—The senate $6 125 [illegible] 228 global aid bill headed today for a stormy reception in the economy-minded house which last week voted many millions less

The senate okayed the unprecedented outlay by a 60 to 9 vote shortly after last midnight If rejected by the house—as it undoubtedly will be—the bill will be sent to a joint conference committee for agreement on some middle ground before Saturday adjournment

The senate action added well over a billion dollars to the house approved bill It did this chiefly by restoring the world-wide assistance program to a 12-month spending basis instead of the 15 months demanded by the house In actual cash the senate bill upped the house amount by only $140 000 000 and was still $408 000 000 short of the amount President Truman asked

Navy Fund Approved

Before its vote on the foreign spending bill the senate took still another step bearing importantly on American foreign policy By a voice vote it approved a $3 686 733 250 appropriation for the Navy starting July 1 This measure also goes back to the house for action on a senate boost of more than $125 000,000

Earlier the senate also had disposed of a $43 422 061 government corporations bill which carried among other things a $30 972 061 appropriation for the Tennessee valley authority including a hotly debated $4 000 000 item to start building a TVA steam plant to generate electricity

Not Much Discussion

The gigantic foreign aid bill eased through the senate with comparatively little debate

The measure earlier had passed its major test when the chamber voted 64 to 15 to restore the 12 month spending period originally authorized by congress for the $5 300 000 000 European recovery program.

This program — heart of the American drive to restore western Europe to economic health and stand off communism—was cut only $245 000,000 by the senate

SEEKS PICKET LIMIT AT LENS FACTORY

By The Associated Press
(Picture on Page 17)

DAYTON O, June 16—Univis Lens Co attorneys planned to ask common pleas court today for an order limiting the number of pickets outside the company's strike bound plant

Seven workers responding to a company back-to-work appeal attempted to crash a 600-man picket line yesterday Some of the seven were picked up and carried into the street. Others were pushed back

The company was struck 43 days ago by the CIO United Electrical Workers in support of unannounced wage demands

The incident brought this announcement last night from company President M H Stanley

I will move the company plant from Dayton unless we obtain assurances the police will maintain law and order in the future

Francis Lean Schnacke company attorney said last night he would seek a modification of present injunction against picketing The current injunction does not limit the number of pickets

Meanwhile Dwight Ludwick, a Univis employe filed a petition with the national labor relations board asking it to set aside the UEW's certification as collective bargaining agent for Univis employes The petition Ludwick said indicated 30 per cent of Univis employes no longer desired the union to act as their agent

HOUSING BILL FADING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 16—The Taft - Ellender - Wagner housing bill was given up for dead today by some of its backers. But House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) indicated congress may yet pass housing legislation before Saturday's adjournment. The senate-passed T-E-W measure faces a probable pigeonhole in the house rules committee, which had plans to consider it again this afternoon.

TRUMAN PICTURES SELF AS DEFENDER

By The Associated Press

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN ENROUTE TO KANSAS CITY Mo., June 16—President Truman pictured himself today as a champion of the people in their struggle against special privilege

In platform talks, he carried on his appeal for votes as his homeward - bound campaign train moved eastward.

"The issue in this country is between special privileges and the people" he said at Albuquerque N M, last night.

"I think I represent the people and I am trying to tell the people just how I represent them."

This is one of the themes at which he has hammered during nearly 60 talks since he left Washington June 3 on a cross-country pre-convention tour

The President also repeated yesterday that he has been "pouring it on" congress

"And they've got the jitters back there" he told an Albuquerque crowd "They have gone to work"

The President will visit his home in Jackson county, Missouri today for the first time since the death of his 94-year-old mother at Grandview Mo

The President, Mrs Truman and their daughter Margaret will arrive at Kansas City's union station at 1 30 p m eastern standard time, and drive immediately to their home in nearby Independence, Mo to spend the night

The trip back to Washington will be resumed tomorrow morning.

'DEAL' RUMORS HEAD TALK AT PHILADELPHIA

Vandenberg, Taft and Stassen Central Figures in Pre-Convention Gossip.

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 16 Pre-convention talk of GOP delegate deals was going full blast today in an atmosphere shadowed by a cloud no larger than Arthur H Vandenberg of Michigan

With the Republican national convention opening next week and the first ballot still more than a week away the political species that has its being in headquarters hotel lobbies tried to see a pattern for the future in

▶Reports that the senate president plans to keep the 'draft Vandenberg' movement alive, at least for a while His design to check any Republican drift back to isolationism

▶Published but unconfirmed reports of a deal-in-making between Sen Robert A. Taft, (R) of Ohio and Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota

▶Disclosure that Gov Thomas E. Dewey New York, and Gov Earl Warren of California a trailer so far in the nomination stakes, held a midnight meeting last night at New Castle N H, where the national governors' conference is going on

Sen Vandenberg's influence on the convention picture, according to his friends, is intended to be a sort of corrective. If he could be sure that the Republicans would pick a candidate friendly to his idea of foreign policy, he'd have no hesitation in taking himself all the way out of the convention scene right now

He obviously has angered some powerful Republicans by his blasts against house cuts in foreign spending and his opposition to drastic restrictions on the administration's tariff-making powers.

Seeks Guarantee

But the story from Washington is that Sen. Vandenberg is going to hang on to every advantage he has to insure, if possible, a strong foreign policy plank along the bipartisan lines he believes in

If he succeeds in this project, he might just possibly give one of the out-in-the-open candidates a friendly shove toward nomination

Meanwhile, Mr Stassen is on his way here from Minneapolis He will be the first of the big three candidates to arrive in headquarters His last pre-departure word was, 'We are determined to win." He confirmed that he had dined last week with Col Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune and a Taft man

But Mr Stassen denied there was any talk of his accepting the No. 2 place on a Taft-Stassen ticket.

However talk of deals of one kind or another among the various candidates persisted, and it seemed not unreasonable to assume that some were in the offing

Some of the most significant convention news is coming right now from New Hampshire, where the annual governors conference—Republicans and Democrats—is meeting Gov. Thomas E Dewey of New York is there So is Gov James Duff of Pennsylvania As the Philadelphia special correspondents report it, Dewey has tempted Duff with everything but a bowl of honey without getting so much as a smile of encouragement about the plans of Pennsylvania's 73-vote convention delegation

Promises "No Smoke Filled Room" Selection

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 16—"The myth that Republican presidential nominations are decided in a smoke filled room will be buried here next week," Chairman Walter S. Hallanan told members of the GOP arrangements committee today

"We all know that smear has been invented nourished and spread by wilful propagandists with new deal axes to grind," he told the committee as it met to complete plans for the largest convention in the party's history

Meanwhile the convention contest committee faced six delegate disputes, two of them involving Negro recognition The platform committee prepared to start discussions tomorrow

Ezra R Whitla of Coeur D'Alene Idaho, chairman of the contest committee said at least three of the delegate disputes — Georgia South Carolina and Alaska—are "serious contests."

After his 46-member committee considers the various disputes today, he'll send its recommendations to entire national committee tomorrow morning. The ne-

FEDERAL COAL ACTION TAKEN

Conciliation Chief Ching in Move To Prevent Parley Collapse.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 16—Towering "Cy" Ching, the government's conciliation chief, moved in fast today in a bid to keep John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators from getting too mad to talk contract terms.

The operators broke off negotiations yesterday, saying the sessions were "futile" because of Lewis' strings on bargaining for a new wage-welfare fund pact. The present expires June 30.

Ching called both sides to a meeting with him tomorrow morning. And Lewis ordered his own advisers to assemble one week later for what may be a strike strategy huddle.

The Southern Coal Producers association which won a court order to force Lewis to include its representative in the industry-wide meetings, disagreed with the walk-out action of the other operators.

Say Moody "Walked Out Too"

But for the moment at least the association was unable to do anything about it. Lewis said Joseph E Moody, the association president "walked out, too, leaving us sitting there"

Moody and his board of directors scheduled a meeting this morning. The session took on new importance because of yesterday's rapid-fire developments

The SCPA board could decide to invite Lewis to meet separately and make a contract. The United Mine Workers chief expressed the opinion at a news conference that two leading members of the southern group could negotiate an agreement if they wanted to because of their position in the industry He named J D Francis head of Island Creek Coal Co, and O L. Alexander, president of the Pocahontas Fuel Co

The association represents southern companies and individual mines which produce one-third of the nation's bituminous coal

Ching, in asking all parties to confer with him tomorrow, said he had been informed they had reached an "impasse" in their own effort at making a contract.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the bituminous coal operators said Lewis insisted on "activities" of the 1947 welfare and retirement fund now over $40,000,000, as a "condition precedent to discussion of a new wage agreement"

Meetings May "Mislead"

O'Neill said that the operators concluded "that further meetings May mislead the public and governmental agencies by creating the impression that an agreement may be effected by the conference.

Lewis, meeting reporters later, said the mine workers will continue to "refuse to abandon their loved ones" who were widowed or in distress and in need of benefits authorized by the 1947 contract.

Lewis called his 200-man policy committee to Washington Thursday, June 24—two days before the start of an industry-wide miners' vacation which continues through July 5.

Selective Service Enactment Expected, However, Without Amendment.

BULLETIN
By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 16 — The house today passed over President Truman's veto a $975,-914,700 appropriation bill shifting the U S employment service from the labor department to the federal security agency.

• • •

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 16 — House draft foes rallied hopefully today around a plan to keep the issue on ice until next January.

The idea was brought out late yesterday by Rep. Shafer (R-Mich). It drew quick support from several members opposing a peacetime return to selective service and a tentative endorsement from Rep. Short (R-Mo), who is leading the floor fight against the bill

House leaders said a final vote on the draft may not come until tomorrow although they still hoped to finish it today Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the house armed service committee predicted passage by a wide margin—and without the delayed-action Shafer proposal

Sees Alien Proposal's Defeat

Among other amendments which Andrews said he thought would be rejected was one by Rep Gavin (R-Pa) to allow the armed services to enlist up to 100,000 aliens for three-year terms.

The senate-passed bill contains a similar proposal. But the number of aliens was put at 25,000 and their terms at five years.

The Shafer plan would hold off registration, as well as inductions, until next Jan 31 The law would go into operation then only if voluntary enlistments had not produced enough men.

Campaign Called For

In the meantime, the services would have to conduct an intensive recruiting campaign. These would be major inducements:

▶Increasing the pay for all enlisted men 25 per cent.

▶Lowering the passing grade of the Army's aptitude test from 80 to 70 points.

▶Accepting two-year enlistments with the same privileges as enlistments for longer terms.

The bill before the house would hold up inductions for 75 days and then permit them only if the President formally ordered a start.

The bill would require men from 18 through 25 to register. Those from 19 through 25 would be drafted for two years. Most veterans, and members of reserve units, the National Guard and Air National Guard, would be exempt.

The senate passed its similar bill last week. It would call for registration from 18 through 25, and inductions from 19 through 25.

1928 GRADUATES OF HARDING MEET

First Reunion in 20 Years Held by Class.

The first reunion of the Harding High school class of 1928 in 20 years was held June 12 at the Wesley Methodist church on Olney avenue. Present for a dinner were 86 members of the class, which graduated 185. One hundred and forty-two persons attended. The late Jesse H. Mason was superintendent of the school at that time.

Flowers on the speakers' table were an arrangement of gladioli with sweet peas, and the class colors. Gardenias furnished by Francis Blake, a member of the class, marked the places for the women. Edward N. Sloan of Columbus was master of ceremonies of the program which consisted of the group singing of the alma mater, the invocation by Mrs. Ethel Martin of Berea, Ky., and popular tunes of 20 years ago by Miss Virginia Grover.

Mrs. Jane Shelton Crumrine, who was the class president, greeted the group and conducted a short business session at which time John Gillis was elected to serve as reunion chairman for another reunion in five years. A memorial service was conducted by Miss Ruth Schott for nine members of the class who have died.

The class song was sung by the group accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Zieg Sparks, who wrote the music. The words were written by Mrs. Roberta Roberts Bush. Lester I. Dickey, present superintendent of city schools, entertained the group with a humorous speech. Mrs. Margaret Schlientz Eicher called roll and each member responded by giving his address and a summary of the last 20 years.

Prizes went to Charles Price who traveled the greatest distance, coming from California, and Mrs. R. F. Piatt for having the largest family. In closing the group sang "Auld Lang Syne." Officers for the reunion were Maynard Smith, general chairman for the 20-year reunion and Mrs. Richard Eicher, social chairman. Others on the committees were Mrs. Leonard Young, Mrs. James Arnold, Miss Ruth Schott, Mrs. Herman Amman, Mrs. Howard Fetter and Walter Moore, program committee; George Stafford and John Gillis, finance committee; Mrs. Robert Conley, Mrs. O. B. Morrison and Francis Blake, decorating committee; Mrs. Dorothy Sparks, accompanist, and Mrs. Richard Eicher, Mrs. N. T. Minard and Miss Ruth Schott, correspondence.

Plant 25 Acres In Fund Raising Plan

MT. GILEAD, June 16—Members of the Williamsport grange planted 25 acres of soy beans at the Harley Watkins farm northeast of Williamsport last week to help raise funds to build a new Grange hall. The land was rented and the profits will go into a building fund of approximately $1,300.

Fourteen tractors worked on the project. They were operated by Eastman Burkey, Glenn Baker, Wayne Craven, Wayne McClelland, Gerard Rhodebeck, Howard Smith, H P Staiger, Harley Bachelder, Delos Bachelder, Asa Ellis, Bill Ward, Merlin Rhodebeck, Marvin Nikolaus and Fred Brunn.

A Big New York Store

put this same Mattress on sale a few weeks ago and sold $105,000.00 worth in one day. Perhaps you saw their ad in the New York papers. It read "We cannot tell you the name of this mattress but you will find the name on the label." Their price was exactly the same as ours $38 however, they charged extra for delivery.

The store received many complaints and in a later edition they apologized for the wording of their ad. With this same mattress at $38 that store experienced the largest Mattress selling in one day in the history of the store.

The big Stearns & Foster factory is co-operating with us to the extent of all the mattresses we can sell at this price in two days. So if you have been looking for supreme comfort at the lowest price, even before the war, don't fail to be at Lennon's Friday or Saturday sure.

Unlike the New York store we are very proud to tell you the label shows this fine mattress is a product of Stearns & Foster the largest and oldest bedding company in the world.

Pay Only $10 Down

News of Our Neighbors

Crestline

Fifty-two members of the Junior Mission band were served at the June meeting of the band in Trinity Lutheran church with Carol Hoffman presiding. One of the features of the meeting was a bridal program. Those taking part were Juanita Lewis costumed as an Indian bride, Sandra Clutter a Chinese bride, Shirley Meinzer a Japanese bride and Carol Sollinger an American bride with her sister Inez as flower girl. A profusion of flowers gave a spring atmosphere to the setting as the girls marched down the aisle to the music of the bridal chorus. Mrs L L H [illegible] explained the bridal costumes in foreign lands. The lesson "The Bible in New Guinea" was presented by Mrs. R P Kraner, Mrs. Jack Beck and Mrs Harold Kraner. Sandra Duffner read a Bible chapter and Barbara Blessing gave a prayer. Raymond and Ronnie Gantzler were ushers. Mrs Henry Witter and Mrs. Robert Retter served.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16 1948

Knee Deep in June

THE development and publicity commission that's calling attention to Ohio's strong points will have a golden opportunity for the next few weeks

It should round up a dozen trainloads of prospects now dwelling against their better judgment in less privileged states and bring them to Ohio

It should stop the trains in the midst of almost any part of the Ohio countryside and let the prospects get out and wade knee deep in June

It should direct their attention to the grass beneath their feet and the trees towering overhead It should advise them to drink deeply of the beauty of distant vistas It should expose them to the liquid music of an Ohio stream singing between wooded banks and point out the blueness of the Ohio sky and the whiteness of the curvesome clouds poised on the horizon

This would be selling by indirection—one of the tricks of the trade The salesman sells his personality and the customer does the rest Anyone visiting Ohio in June will like what he sees so well that the impulse to move to the state and share in its blessings will be irresistible

A Loose End

THIRTY-ONE member nations of the World Health Organization will meet June 24 in Geneva Whether the United States will be the 32nd is still in doubt.

Two months ago the house rules committee said membership in the organization was a dead issue and that it didn't propose to have the United States "running around giving injections all over the world" This attitude changed as eminent medical authorities made their opinions known Early this month the house followed the senate in passing a resolution approving membership in the WHO But it isn't law because house and senate must reconcile differences in their resolutions and the President must sign the bill As the matter stands now, it's one of the many loose ends waiting to be gathered up in the last-minute rush on Capitol Hill

The Site Was Cleared

A MOVEMENT to keep a United Nations headquarters from being built on the site already prepared along the East river in Manhattan island is afoot Its backers apparently are the Arab League states resentful of Zionist influence in this country

Since it is apparent also that the move has been timed to influence congressional decision on the proposed $65 000 000 loan to the United Nations to develop the property it must be taken seriously Congress in its present state of mind will be susceptible to the strategy of dissension over the location of a permanent headquarters.

In a way the move is typical of what has happened to the United Nations from the outset World War II cleared the way for international action to prevent further wars of aggression The site was prepared for a monumental edifice to human aspirations

But human fears and jealousies interfered The architect's plans were shelved while the potential builders used up their energies in bickering Not only the permanent headquarters of the United Nations but the United Nations itself hangs in the balance

It's a Disease

A DISGUSTED spokesman for the Reserve Officers association holding its annual convention in Denver says 'Pentagon lethargy' is to blame for the Army's failure to develop a reserve training program The phrase is an apt one—Pentagon lethargy

It brings to mind the wartime stories of lost souls wandering in that vast castle dedicated to paper work of guides assigned to awed visitors, of cases of malnutrition brought on by the remoteness of lunchrooms There was no lethargy in the Pentagon then Just frustration

There may be no lethargy now Perhaps it's still frustration—sheer unwillingness to undertake the impossible The Pentagon is as vast as ever but less heavily populated A brass-bound traveler on his way to see someone about a reserve training program might trudge for days on end without seeing a friendly face—possibly without seeing any face but his own in a washroom mirror as he bedded down for another night, alone in space It would be tempting to give up throw a note in a bottle out the window and await rescue resolved never to mention a reserve training program again.

Did You Know

The Middle Ages in Europe are usually designated as the period from the downfall of Rome about 476 to the transition into the modern age variously reckoned as early as 1450 and as late as 1520.

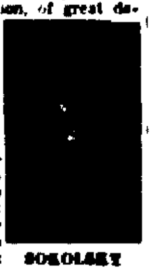
Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

The Desperation of Harry Truman.

FEW presidents have quite faced the situation that finds Harry Truman desperate to the point of hysteria. For only a hysterical or dishonest man could have described the 80th congress as the worst in American history After all, it has not been a "rubber stamp" congress of which servility Harry Truman partook as a member of the senate It has had a record of hard work, of constructive legislation, of great decisions on domestic and international policy



SOKOLSKY

Harry Truman's despair does not arise from the prospect of defeat by the Republicans as much as from a knowledge that his own party has turned upon him He has lost the confidence of his own associates In fact he has, in some matters, acted with such infantile petulance that no one can explain what he had hoped to accomplish He is seeking an issue a rallying point and finding none at hand hopes to use congress as a whipping boy He apparently will say anything like his talking about what a good buy his pal Joe Stalin is No matter what we think of Joe he is the head of a state and it sounds cheap and vulgar for the President of the United States to refer to the prime minister of another state in the language Truman used for Stalin I am sure it did not take one vote from Wallace

This business of not permitting Democratic state leaders to travel on his train arises from a fiction that this is an inspection tour by the President of the United States, not a political tour by the Democratic aspirant for the presidential nomination

The People Pay

The reason for the fiction is money If President Truman as President is traveling, the expenses are paid out of the treasury of the United States Mr Truman has no private means, his salary as President is altogether inadequate particularly after income tax deductions The Democratic national committee is as financially flat as it is intellectually and politically So Mr Truman could only have taken this trip at the people's expense, as his predecessor, Franklin D Roosevelt, had done before him with less justification.

Also, there is the matter of radio time As President of the United States, Mr Truman is entitled to many courtesies, as a political aspirant he is entitled to what he can get, the same as anybody else

So Mr Truman had to keep the Democratic state chairman and similar fry off the train, otherwise the trip would have been too obviously political This requires careful management at this time, Mr Roosevelt made these inspection tours without any moral sense of propriety But then, Mr Roosevelt had the advantage of a war to cover up for him and to provide a censorship for reasons of national security" Nothing like that is available for Harry Truman So he not only kept the politicians off the train but as I understand it he kept them off the arrangement committees in the various cities

No More To Say

For instance Lester Loble chairman of the Democratic state central committee of Montana is reported to have said concerning the visit to Montana

"I have not changed my opinion as previously stated This reception was arranged by the Republicans That's all I have to say"

That is undoubtedly correct because when I was in Butte, some of my friends ardent Republicans, were preparing for the visit of the President of the United States Without them it is doubtful whether the greeting could have been a success but how does that help the Democratic leader of the state who is faced with the necessity of trying not only to elect President Truman but to reelect Senator Murray whose chances are practically nil? Harry Truman's visit to Montana practically guaranteed the local Republican candidates their election.

Perhaps that is why in his non-political way Harry Truman made a special appeal for Senator James E Murray and Congressman Mike Mansfield Of course there was no politics in that only the President reminiscing about old friends Nobody can naturally be so crude

Fear in France

By Stewart Alsop

PARIS

BEFORE the end of the six-power London conference on a western German government American Ambassador Lewis Douglas turned to French Ambassador Rene Massigli and asked a question which sent a shiver down the spine of official Paris If the Russians attempted to compel the Western powers to leave Berlin Douglas asked would the French government be willing to back the United States in the use of force? Massigli referred the question to the French foreign ministry The answer, stripped of diplomatic decoration was succinct. It took the form of another question "What force?"

ALSOP

Better than any others those two words epitomize the sense of terrible insecurity which colors all French thinking today For the French and with some reason feel naked and exposed Behind the bitter debate on the west German agreement behind the French reaction to the new Russian moves in Berlin lies fear—the fear of another war and another occupation which a weakened France would be wholly powerless to prevent

Again and again the reporter in Paris hears the same argument With America rearming with the birth of Western Union with the Communist political offensive in Western Europe stopped dead in its tracks the military position of the Soviet sphere is certain constantly to deteriorate in relation to the West The Kremlin must know this The Kremlin must also know that today nothing stands between the Red Army and the Atlantic but some Anglo-American police battalions and the eight or ten miserably under equipped divisions of France and the Benelux countries What more logical than that the Kremlin should seize the opportunity before it is too late? As for the atomic bomb "Your bomb is no doubt a pretty little thing but how will it help us here in Paris?"

Painful Operation Foreseen

In part this sort of thing can no doubt be written off as propaganda for the French position in Germany and for American help in rearming France Yet the fear is real Above all the French fear another occupation by a foreign army this time with the cooperation of a powerful political minority the Communist party As one Frenchman put it to this reporter "No doubt you would liberate us in the end But in the meantime the Communists would have grafted a new political skin on France in such a way that you could not remove the skin without killing the organism

In the comfortably distant United States such fears may seem neurotic Yet they exist and the fact is that they have been consistently aggravated by a whole sequence of events in which the United States has played a major part

About two months ago the French leaders were happily if erroneously convinced that in exchange for French agreement on the formation of a western German government the United States would quickly throw its whole vast weight behind western Europe and France It was expected first that the United States would make some formal commitment to Western Union, and second that the United States would proceed this year to help the Western Union countries, and above all France, to rearm themselves

First of a Series

These hopes seemed about to be fulfilled when the joint military staffs of the Western Union countries, meeting in London, received an urgent request from Washington for an estimate of their military requirements. The estimate was hurriedly drawn up and dispatched to Washington Then nothing more was heard from across the Atlantic But this was only the first in a series of shocks and disappointments which have had a profound psychological effect in Paris

When no response was forthcoming on the Western Union estimate of requirements French Foreign Minister Bidault sent the first of three notes to Secretary of State George C Marshall requesting a meeting in Washington This request like two which followed in subsequent weeks was refused simply because Washington knew that Bidault was certain to ask immediate help in rearming France and Washington also knew that at the present time it was politically impossible to fulfill this request But while this exchange was in progress the famous Smith-Molotov exchange was published in Moscow The French immediately — and of course quite wrongly—suspected that a deal between Moscow and Washington was about to be arranged perhaps on the Munich pattern in which French interests would be sacrificed

The Question That Hurt

The next step in this sequence of events was the question which Ambassador Douglas asked Ambassador Massigli To the French, at last sadly convinced that neither an American military guaranty nor American help in rearming France would be forthcoming in the near future this question seemed to imply the likelihood of a war a war in which France would be quickly occupied

The worst blow of all was of course the last the action of the American House of Representatives in applying the Taber meat ax to ECA appropriations This has seemed to many Frenchmen the final dreary proof that the United States is not a dependable ally in the struggle between East and West in which France occupies a position so frighteningly exposed

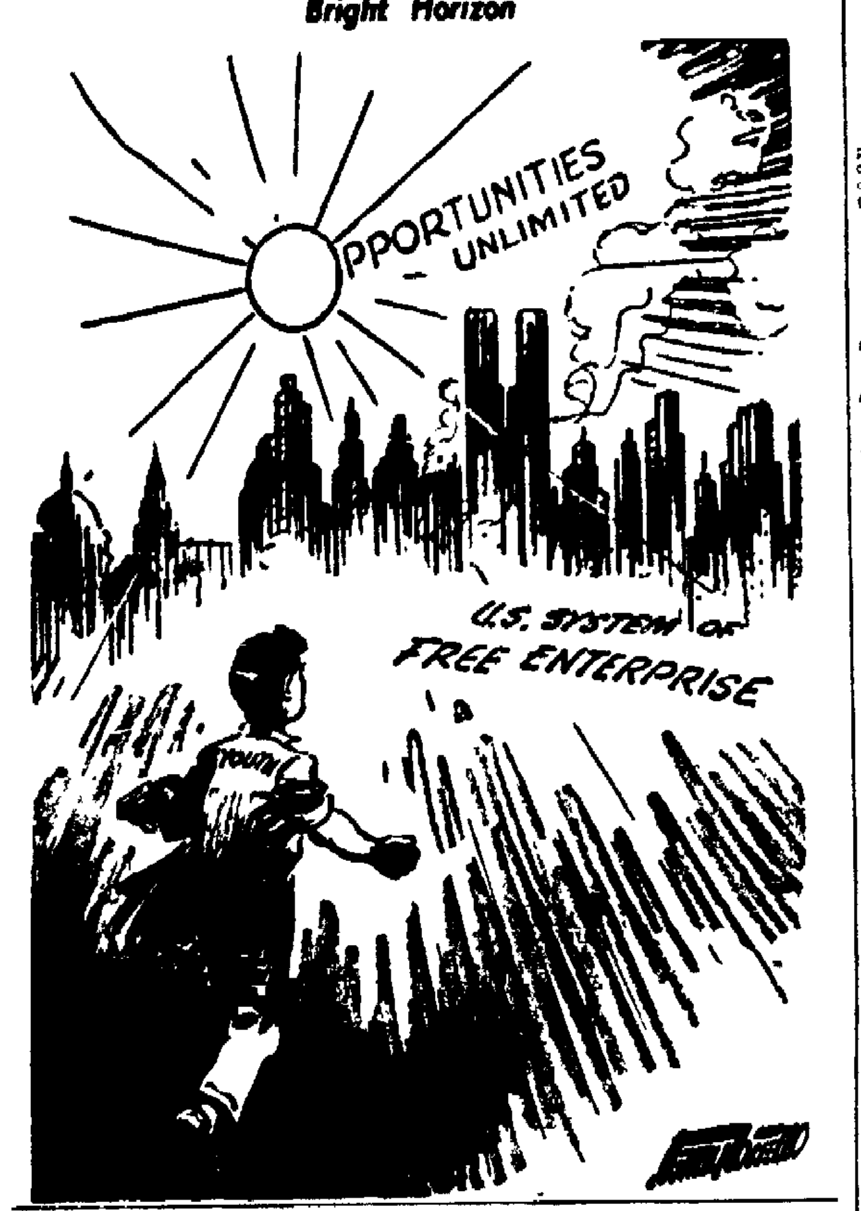
Bright Horizon



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday June 16 1938

Members of the first $12 000 000 000 peacetime congress fretted and fumed over a $10 000 000 barrier that stopped their rush to adjourn The barrier consisted of a handful of last-minute appropriations written into the third deficiency bill The bill as passed by the house carried allotments totaling $279,000 000 The senate added $10,000 000 to that

Charles L Murphey 62 owner of an art and wallpaper business here for 30 years died at his home on Ellis court

Mrs Eugene H Moore of Bellefontaine avenue and Mrs W W Koppe of Galion were in Columbus attending a roundtable session for voice instructors conducted by Estelle Leibling voice teacher from New York City

George W Myers was elected and installed as eminent commander of Marion Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar

It was announced that Sgt Robert F Melby of Co D, 166th Infantry, had been commissioned a second lieutenant and assigned to duty with Co D here

Clyde F Eggleston 82 retired hotel man died at his home on East Center street

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 16 1928

It was announced that a compromise settlement had been reached in the Burr Raichley will case in which relatives contesting the will were to receive $60 000

Francis Raymond Beer 25 died at his home seven miles north of Marion

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Marian Burnside and Warren Meister was made at a 6 o'clock dinner given by Mrs. C. S Burnside mother of the bride-elect, at her home on East Church street.

Twelve members of the Gamma Mu chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority were guests of Miss Gladys Brobst at a weekend house party at Rye Beach

Miss Mary Alice Fye was hostess at a bridge tea and handkerchief shower given at her home on Belmont street for Miss Nell Mae Sampson, who was to be married soon

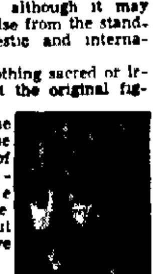
Mrs John Gries and son Billy of Bain avenue returned from Tiffin where they had been the guests of Mrs Gries parents Mr and Mrs. G W Riley

Trimming the ERP

By Raymond Moley

A LITTLE less heat and more light would be helpful in appraising the cut in the ERP made by the house of representatives. Some of the eastern denunciation of the reduction is downright hysterical It is "a stab in the back, a boon to Russia," "selfish isolationism" and other things too terrible to repeat The cut hardly measures up to such infamous terms, although it may have been unwise from the standpoint of domestic and international politics.

There was nothing sacred or irrevocable about the original figure of $6 533 000 000 for the first year of the plan. Some of the circumstances were bound to change and some, but not all, have changed



MOLEY

In the beginning, the European beneficiary countries asked for $29 000 000 000 over a four year period After some cutting the administration came up with a figure of $6,530 000 000 for the year Then some more was added for China and some other countries, bringing the total to more than $7,000,000,000.

Change in Situation

At that time, it was assumed in congress that the administration's $7 000,000,000 figure was set as the basis of bargaining Senator Taft suggested a considerably lower amount, as did former President Hoover Then came the rapid deterioration of Russian relations, the rape of Czechoslovakia and the Italian elections The administration took heart and stuck to the original figure Finally the advocates of a lower figure gave ground and $6 533 000,000 was agreed upon. At the same time, demands for national defense were lifted by $4 000 000 000

All this, of course, increased very greatly the prospects of super-inflation—a fact which enabled the Truman administration to look more hopefully toward November

Crop Outlook Better

But as is shown by the Taber committee's report, a good many items in the original plan were in need of correction This was especially true of the proposals for food exports Crop prospects for Europe are exceptionally bright. There is a world surplus of sugar, which promises a further considerable saving Prospective improvements in coal-mining further brighten the prospect.

Other reductions made by the house may have less justification No doubt the senate will more carefully explore the whole situation now that it comes down to more exact and fewer details.

In any event, it is clear that the house reductions were purposely made large as a basis of bargaining with the senate That is the oldest of legislative games

Sure of Help

After the excitement dies down we can be assured that Europe will be materially helped The huge enterprise will finally get under way and if more money is needed it no doubt will be provided after the November election has quieted the voice of politics

It might be well if our official family together with other responsible American spokesmen would do more to quiet European fears As it is, they are broadcasting to the world the distorted opinion that our congress is turning isolationist Nothing could be more harmful or more erroneous We are witnessing a bit of congressional politics mixed with a desire to help in some measure a serious budgetary situation.

Russian Artists Gild the Moustache

The first three prizes in a recent Moscow art exhibit were won by pictures of Stalin.

That is a surprise like tobacco in a cigaret.

And not solely because the judges know which side their bread is caviared on.

Stalin is the favorite subject of his subjects. They believe in art for Joe's sake.

It's no wonder his picture is seen in more places than if he had switched to Calverts The Russian artist's idea of a still life is Stalin with a stiff upper lip

That's why it's not surprising that portraits of Stalin won placed and showed to say nothing of grabbing off all the honorable mentions.

In fact, it would have been a lot of trouble had the judges selected a picture of something other than Stalin having to go all the way to Siberia to make the award.

Speaking of Foibles

By TRUMAN TWILL

Pull up a chair and listen to this It says here that the Japanese Board of Trade wants to sell American industry 55 000 metric tons of unassorted steel scrap

It also says the U S steel business is excited about this because Japan is full of steel scrap which could be brought to this country for perhaps as little as $15 a ton, plus whatever must be paid to the Japanese The United States needs it at any price because making new steel without scrap is like the old problem of making bricks without straw

And what is Truman Twill doing on a subject like this instead of sticking to his last which is human foibles? Well does anyone know of a bigger foible than selling scrap steel to the friendly, ambitious little Japs before World War II to help them build armaments then buying back scrap steel from the friendly little fellows after the war's over?

From where we sit this is the laugh of the month—maybe the laugh of the year If human beings used bricks for weapons, instead of more modern devices wouldn't it be pretty funny to sell the other fellow the straw to make bricks, then get into a brick fight with him lick him in spite of the fact he couldn't have fought without the straw then end up a few years later buying back whatever straw he had left over because by that time a shortage of straw had developed at home?

Not so many years ago the Japanese were a big fat zero in military potentialities. All they had to fight with was swords and clubs. No one needed to give them a second thought. So the United States turned itself inside out to convert them to modern practices, including armies navies and fighting air forces It sold them everything they needed—urged them to buy

Then when they had everything they needed they started a war against the United States the purpose of said war being to get everything they wanted including the United States That left the United States no choice but to beat their ears off which cost a zillion times more than the profits someone made from arming them in the first place. And now the proposition is to buy back the junk piles created by the bombing raids so there can be enough new steel produced to get things ready for the next great war

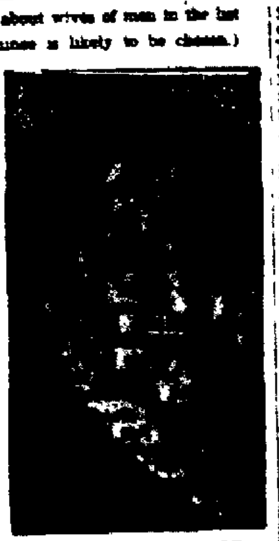
If that isn't a foible what is? Especially in view of the fact that the next great war is threatening to come about because Russia in the meantime has become a major military power with the same kind of assistance from the United States.

The joke's always on us—the little operators whose duty isn't to question why but just to do or die—the little operators who said before Pearl Harbor there was something screwy about selling Japan the steel that would be used to kill American men as soon as Japanese warlords decided the time was ripe But no one was laughing then, and no one's laughing now Some things are too funny to be funny.

Sketch of a Possible White House

Martha Bowers Taft—

(One of a series of daily articles about wives of men in the list from which the Republican nominee is likely to be chosen.)



MRS. ROBERT A. TAFT

THINGS would hum—in the White House—if Bob and Martha Taft get elected ... Ambitious, witty, front-page Martha Taft has a mind of her own and will speak it wherever she may find herself, including 1600 Pennsylvania avenue ... She would not hesitate to break a precedent or two ... As old hand at operating through Washington tradition, protocol, and delicate situations, she would be as much "at home" in the White House as her husband who used to live there when his pappy, William Howard Taft, was president ... Politics and Washington were nothing new to Martha Taft even before she met Robert, a Yale classmate of her brother ... Her father was Judge Lloyd Bowers and solicitor general during the Taft regime.

BORN IN WINONA, MINN., in 1899 she attended Rosemary school in Greenwich, Conn and later studied at the Sorbonne in France ... She might have been a teacher of French but instead she got married ... For years the Tafts made their home on a 65-acre farm on Indian Hill, near Cincinnati ... Three of their four sons (William, Robert, Lloyd, Horace), are married. The youngest, Horace, is not ... A crusading clubwoman, Martha Taft helped organize the National League of Women Voters and later was national treasurer ... Served on first National Girl Scout board in Washington ... As a campaigner, Martha adds the punch to Taft's dry and solemn approach ... Her husband might never have gone to the senate in 1938 if she had not so vigorously campaigned for him.

SPEECH AFTER SPEECH took her into 85 counties to organize GOP women ... Martha Taft did so well a Cleveland paper headlined "Bob and Martha Taft Elected to the Senate" ... Her admiration of her husband is sincere ... and she tells what "Bob says" with so much verve and wit the point goes over better than when he makes it ... The only potential GOP First Lady not to fall in with the GOP strategy that any successor to Eleanor Roosevelt must demonstrate (for vote-getting purposes) that woman's place is in the home ... Not the type to wear fluffy hats, she does anyway ... Takes along her knitting everywhere, even to embassy parties ... Considered a connoisseur of etchings and engravings she's at her best when talking with a kindred soul about art ... Martha Taft makes firm friends and enemies.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brinkman of 289 Mary street are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to John W. Creasap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen M. Creasap of 598 Mary street, which took place Saturday, June 12, in Trinity Baptist church. Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony read at 10:30 o'clock in the morning before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, palms and lighted tapers held in candelabra.

The bride wore a dress of pink silk crepe with spring violet and white accessories and carried a white Bible topped with a purple orchid showered with white streamers. Mrs. Roy Shirk, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a costume in an aqua shade with black and white accessories. Her flowers were white carnations in a corsage.

The bride's mother chose an aqua costume and white accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Creasap was costumed in a white and navy dress with harmonizing accessories and her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinkman were hosts at a reception following the ceremony. The table held a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and was centered with an arrangement of pink, white and red roses. The same flowers were in bouquets throughout the rooms. Assisting were Mrs. Shirk and Mrs. Francis Snyder.

The bride was graduated from Harding High school this year. Mr. Creasap was graduated from Harding in 1946 and is employed with the Erie Railroad Co. Upon their return they will make their home at 350 Mary street.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Castanien of 312 South High street are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Janet Ruth to Robert E. Swisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bry E. Gibson of the Prospect pike which took place Friday evening, June 11, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Frederick D. Hoffman, pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical and Reformed church in Upper Sandusky, a former pastor of the bride's family, officiated for the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock. To repeat their vows the couple stood before an improvised altar of white spring flowers and greenery and lighted tapers held in a seven-branch candelabra.

Miss Eleanor Castanien and William Castanien, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. A reception for a few guests followed the ceremony.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Harding High school. The bride is employed with the Jay H. Maish Co. and Mr. Swisher is in the inspection department at the Universal Cooler Corp. plant. The couple will make their home at 225 West Pleasant street.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Jane Huth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Huth of Natrona, Pa. and John L. Craner, son of Mrs. L. H. Craner of Lake street, which took place June 4.

The wedding took place in a double ceremony with the bride's sister, Miss Rita C. Huth and Bernard F. Menda exchanging nuptial vows. Rev. Robert M. Murphy performed the ceremony at 1:30 o'clock in the Breckenridge Country club at Natrona. Both brides were attended by their sister, Mrs. Andrea Factor. Thomas Powers of Buffalo, N. Y., was Mr. Craner's best man. The wedding music was played by Mrs. LeRoy Nelson of Springfield, sister of Mr. Craner.

The brides wore identical gowns of white dotted organdy over taffeta with tight fitting bodices and full circular skirts. Their veils of white nylon net were edged with two-inch ruffles and each carried a spray of white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Huth wore a pink and black sheer with matching net hat and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Craner chose a gray sheer with yellow roses.

Mrs. Craner is a graduate of Carnegie Tech school of art and has been employed as a chartist for Allegheny Ludlum Corp. Mr. Craner, a graduate of Harding High school, served three years overseas in the U. S. Air Corps in World War II and is employed with the Allied Building Credit, Inc. in Erie, Pa., where the couple will make their home.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Gladys Byrd of 606 Cleveland avenue, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clements, who resided at Marseilles, to Burke Jones, son of F. U. Jones of Kenton and the late Mrs. Jones. The double ring ceremony was read Sunday, June 6, at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon in Epworth Methodist church by Dr. V. E. Busler pastor. Only the immediate families and close friends attended. The altar of the church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, palms and lighted candles in two seven branch candelabra.

Attending the couple were Miss Thelma Clements of Marion, sister of the bride, and Guy Lautz of Kenton.

The bride chose for her wedding a white silk dress. The fitted bodice was styled with a yoke which featured a high neckline and it had long sleeves. Imported lace inserts accented the full skirt. Her only jewelry was a three strand pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with satin ribbon streamers. Miss Clements was attired in a dress of ice blue crepe with which she combined pastel pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception dinner was held at Hotel Harding. Bouquets of flowers and candles in white and gold, the bride's chosen colors, decorated the table. When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. Jones was wearing a gray suit with white accessories and her bridal orchid.

Mrs. Jones has been employed as a secretary in the office of the Pure Oil Co. bulk plant here. Mr. Jones is an attorney in Kenton where the couple will reside.

$25,000 HEART BALM SOUGHT BY HUSBAND

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, June 16 — A once-trusting husband is seeking $25,000 heart balm in damages from a handsome Cleveland Sunday school teacher and part-time marriage instructor who allegedly practiced psychiatry at night on his wife

The husband, Paul I Bringman 33, of suburban Maple Heights filed suit yesterday in Cuyahoga county common pleas court alleging that Clayton Nordstrom 32, alienated the affections of his wife Mrs Ellen Jean Bringman 23

Bringman is president of the Gleaners club, a Cleveland church organization for young married couples, and Nordstrom teaches the class

The irate husband charged that Mrs Bringman was attracted to Nordstrom the first time she ever saw him—at a Gleaners club wiener roast

Bringman's petition stated the two met secretly "behind the church's walls"

He said his marital problem really became difficult when Nordstrom a case worker for the Family Service association was asked to give Mrs Bringman advice on her family troubles

Bringman charged that Nordstrom presented himself as "a student of psychology specializing in the prognosis of family troubles and majoring in the application of chiropratic manipulation to readjust the tangled thoughts of a confused wife"

The petition stated that Bringman left home each evening to attend a movie while Nordstrom remained behind to "explore the mind of the wife and discover what is wrong with her thinking"

He returned early one night Bringman said only to find the doors locked, the shades drawn and the lights out

Nordstrom, father of a two and one-half-year-old girl, is slated to receive a social science degree today from Western Reserve university

TUCKER CORPORATION GETS JUDGE'S ORDER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 16—The Tucker Corp has been ordered by federal Judge John P Barnes to show cause by next Tuesday why it should not be required to produce its operating and financial records

Barnes issued his directive yesterday after the securities and exchange commission filed a petition to have the corporation respond to a SEC subpoena asking Tucker to submit its records for investigation

The SEC disclosed that it had sent six experts to Chicago to study the records and books of the corporation

The SEC in its court action said it was impelled to order a check of Tucker books and records after an investigation by staff members tended to show the corporation's registration statement supplemental statements and annual report contained "untrue statements" and omitted "material facts"

Preston Tucker, corporation president has accused other automobile manufacturers as well as officials in Washington of hampering the company's efforts to produce a new car He did not disclose any names

In commenting on the SEC court action Tucker said "to give them such records as they requested means that we would have to shut down We believe this is all part of the campaign to block production in our plant"

DESCRIBES OPERATION AS HELP TO HEART

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 16 An operation designed to bring a new blood supply to a heart whose main intake vessels are being slowly plugged was described today to an international gathering of heart specialists

The operation—similar in one respect to the "blue baby" operation for infants with deformed heart arteries—has been performed on dogs by Dr Joseph T Roberts of Little Rock Ark

In the "blue baby" operation a blood vessel normally serving another function in the body is used to carry more blood to the lungs from the heart

In the operation described by Dr Roberts a blood vessel that normally helps carry blood away from the heart to the body is connected to another vessel which drains blood from the heart and converts it into an intake vessel for the heart A change in pressures also is involved in the new blood flow

Dr Roberts explained the operation at the third annual inter-American cardiological congress He said that when the new blood supply was fed into the heart of dogs a shutting off of the heart arteries was not followed by death indicating this procedure may be of value in treatment of coronary artery disease"

Rail Union Head Denies He Influenced Truman

By International News Service

CLEVELAND June 16—President A F Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen denied violently last night any part in influencing President Truman in his actions toward three railroad brotherhoods involved in a wages-rules dispute with the nation's carriers

Whitney was charged yesterday in Washington by A J Glover president of the Switchmen's union of North America of influencing the President in preventing the brotherhoods from getting a better settlement than that accepted by the trainmen

The BRT chieftain termed Glover's testimony before a senate labor committee the hopeless mouthings of an incapable union leader who allowed himself to get into an indefensible position at the expense of his members

REFUSES TO ORDER ACTION BY HUMMEL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 16—The Ohio supreme court today refused to order Secretary of State Edward J Hummel to print petition forms to enable the Prohibition party to qualify for the presidential election in Ohio next November

Frank M McCartney of Columbus had asked for a writ on behalf of the party to compel the secretary of state to supply petition forms so that the party could vote for its nominees for president and vice president

The supreme court said there was no mandatory duty on the part of the secretary of state to supply the forms

The decision however would leave the way open for the party to qualify its nominees by preparing its own petitions and submitting them to the secretary of the state

Hummel would have the right to reject the petitions just as he did in the case of the Ohio Wallace for president committee if he saw fit

CONGRESS

appropriation bill He vetoed it yesterday because of a rider requiring that the U S employment service be transferred from the labor department to the federal security agency

Predicts Override

Chairman John Taber (R-NY) of the house appropriations committee predicted the house would put up the necessary two-thirds vote to override But House Republican Leader Charles A Halleck expected a close vote

The senate as well as the house would have to override to write the bill into law and Sen Robert A Taft (R-Ohio) said I don't suppose the senate could override In that event both houses are expected to pass the $975 914 700 appropriation without the rider

The other veto was on the Reed Bulwinkle bill to exempt railroad rate agreements from anti-trust laws Sen Clyde M Reed (R-Kans) planned to bring it up today and Republicans were confident the senate would override The house is expected to override quickly if the senate does

The vetoes were Nos 1 and 3 of a series of three that Mr Truman fired at congress in the course of his western tour He lost out on No 2 earlier this week when both houses overrode his veto of a bill to exclude some 750 000 workers from social security coverage

May Be Others

Some administration supporters believed other vetoes may be in the offing—perhaps on the reciprocal trade bill and a still-pending measure to extend the terms of the atomic energy commission

House and senate leaders believed there was a good chance of meeting the adjournment deadline Said Taft I hope and think congress will recess Saturday and not come back" House Speaker Joseph W Martin Jr agreed

AUTUMN TRIAL SEEN IN LIQUOR BRIBE CASE

By International News Service

COLUMBUS O June 16 An autumn trial probably in September was indicated today for three men accused of soliciting bribes from liquor license applicants

The trio all free on bond includes A E Oppenheimer chief permit examiner for the state liquor department who pleaded innocent at his arraignment yesterday Also pleading innocent were Hugh H Ruel chairman of the Scioto county (Portsmouth) Republican executive committee and Tracy Pack a Portsmouth cab owner

Oppenheimer's bond was set by Judge Elmer R King at $5 000 and the others at $3 000 each

Court officials said the summer docket already was crowded and that the case could not be brought to trial this summer unless given precedence over other pending cases

The trio were indicted by a special Franklin county grand jury

OBJECTS TO C. & O. LOAN APPLICATION

By the United Press

WASHINGTON, June 16 — George S. Jackson, New York, a stockholder of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, today demanded a federal investigation of the road's management by Robert R. Young, board chairman.

The C. & O. recently applied to the interstate commerce commission for authority to borrow $2,500,000 to buy equipment.

Jackson opposed the move in a petition to intervene in the case filed on behalf of himself "and other stockholders" who were not named.

The commission granted the request and set the case for hearing June 24. It said, however, that Jackson could not "broaden the issues." Applications for equipment loans are usually acted on without hearings.

Jackson charged that the borrowing was necessary only because of the "gross extravagance and waste" by the Young management.

He said the money Young spent on a "series of sensational full-page advertisements" could have paid for the equipment which the road now proposes to finance through borrowing.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

TIME is short but the human impulse to say a few thousand well-chosen words is strong.

The house is debating the draft bill. Nobody doubts the outcome. The house will pass it just as the senate did. We'll have a draft law.

The mind of every house member already must be made up on how he'll vote. Speechmaking at this point won't change his mind. At least, it shouldn't.

The draft problem has been kicking around congress for months. Every member has had a chance to look into it carefully and think about it.

He has had a chance to read all sides of the argument. He's talked with other congressmen. And he's been drowned in mail from the folks back home.

So it would be quick and easy if the house just voted and got the draft out of the way, except maybe for trying to make a few changes in the bill.

It would help too. The house has plenty of work to do, plenty of other bills to tackle. It's trying to finish up by the end of the week.

Everybody knows the less speechmaking, the more work can be done. But this doesn't stop a congressman from getting up and cutting loose.

IT WOULDN'T BE CONGRESS without a debate.

So in relays congressmen parade up to the microphone at the tee-off. "My Dear Colleagues . . ." one of them starts. He's against the bill.

For or against, the parade goes on. Each congressman gets four or five minutes. He waves his arms, pounds the table, juts his chin, shouts.

The visitors to the galleries, seeing the house in action for the first time, lean forward, entranced.

Not so the newsmen in the press gallery. They sit there every day looking down at the same sight, the same heat, the same speakers on other subjects.

MOST OF THE SPEAKERS wander up, say their say and wander back to their seats without applause from their fellows waiting for a chance to do the same thing.

Once in a while a certain congressman gets a good hand before he starts and when he finishes.

Dewey Short of Missouri, for instance. Short, a Republican who's against the bill, is probably the best speaker in the house.

When he got up to the microphone yesterday congressmen who had been outside smoking threw away their cigarets and flocked in to hear him.

This was a tribute to Short's eloquence. It didn't mean his listeners were crowding in to be persuaded by what he said.

When the house put up the shutters for the day yesterday this writer called one of the congressmen who had been listening all day.

"DO YOU THINK ANY ONE'S mind was changed by all the speechmaking?"

"Not one," he said.

Why then bother to talk? Maybe three reasons:

1. Some congressmen feel so strongly about the draft, one way or the other, that they have to say something.

2. Some probably just like to hear themselves talk.

3. And some want to get on record so they can mail a copy of their speech to the voters back home.

It doesn't cost them a lot to mail their speeches back to the voters in their district and all 435 seats in the house are at stake in this year's elections.

It may cost a congressman $13 to $14 to have 1,000 copies of a page-long speech in the Congressional Record run off for him by the government printer.

FOR EACH SUCCEEDING 1,000 copies, the cost is less.

And then the congressman can mail the speech postage free by enclosing it in a franked envelope.

The real job on this bill or any bill comes when the time arrives for offering amendments, or changes.

The speechmaking always precedes the offering of amendments.

The house votes on each amendment. If all amendments are voted down the bill sails through untouched. By adding amendments, the house strengthens or weakens a bill.

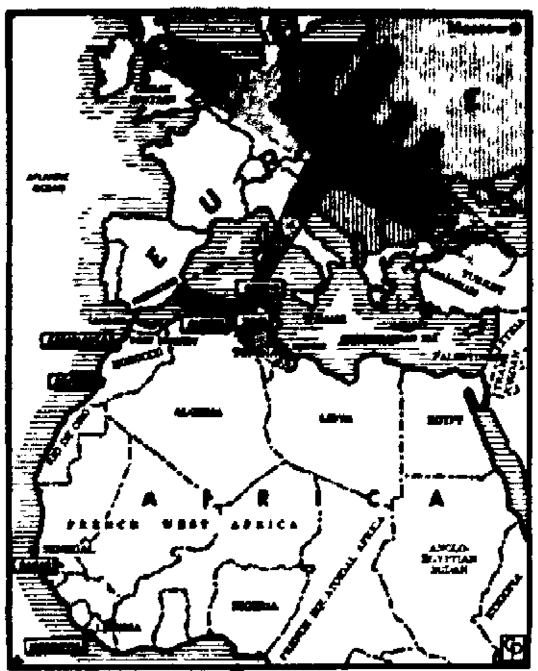
PLANS TRIP AT 94

BUCYRUS, June 16—Already past his ninety-fourth birthday, William Sauer, retired Bucyrus stone mason, is preparing for a motor trip back to visit California where he made his home for 10 years. He is going with his daughter, Mrs. Harold Radcliffe of Long Beach, who has been visiting here for a month. Mr. Sauer worked at his trade occasionally up until a year ago. A native of Germany, he has lived here for 55 years. He is presently making his home with another daughter, Mrs. Henry Wyss.



WANT AFRICA BASES MADE READY It's time to reactivate wartime U. S. air bases in Africa military leaders in the Mediterranean believe, because if war comes the Iron Curtain (vertical lines) will quickly drop over all Europe. But from Bizerte, Tunis, Algiers, Casablanca and two British bases, Gibraltar and Malta (still in good shape), American B-29's could range the continent. Other bases on the map's bottom coast would include supply points of Agadir, Dakar and Monrovia.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Treating Cancer in Children

Nearly everyone thinks of cancer as a disease of the middle-aged or elderly. Unfortunately, it also occurs in children and, when it does, the only means of saving the child's life lie in early recognition and removal of the tumor growth.

The same thing, of course, is true in adults, but in children, early recognition is even more important because in youngsters cancer runs a wild-fire course. Early in the disorder—much earlier than is the case with most adults—cells from the cancer are carried to other parts of the body, particularly the lungs.

Child victims of cancer have this advantage—in them diagnosis is likely to be easier than in the adult because in nearly all cases the tumor is easily seen or felt. Even so, however, cancer still kills as many children under 15 each year as any one of the following diseases—measles, scarlet fever, tuberculosis and whooping cough. The cancer may be present at birth or even before the child is born. The usual locations of such tumors are the eyes, nervous system, kidneys, the adrenal glands located just above the kidneys, the bones and blood-forming tissues. Tumors of the central nervous system, or those affecting the lymph glands are often seen in children from four to twelve years of age.

Cancer of the eye may cause the pupil of one eye to be enlarged. Tumors which affect the throat may cause blocking of the air passages. Enlarged glands in the neck are another sign of such growths. Cancers of the bones cause swelling with tenderness and interference with movements. Tumors of the kidney are generally detected by feeling the mass.

Probably from 10 to 15 per cent of all cases of Hodgkin's disease—a first cousin of cancer—occur during childhood. Here early diagnosis is difficult, but it can be made if one of the enlarged lymph glands so characteristic of that disorder is removed and examined under the microscope.

As with the adult, X-ray examination is helpful in the diagnosis and examination of the more typical forms of cancer. Examination of the blood to determine the amount of lime and phosphorus present, is helpful, together with X-ray examination, in the detection of bone cancers.

Of course, whenever operation is performed to remove a tumor, definite diagnosis can be made by examining some of the tumor tissue under the microscope. Diagnosis may also be accurately established by means of aspirating a minute piece of the tumor using a needle and syringe. This material can then be properly stained and examined under the microscope.

Of course there is a great deal of need for further study of cancer in order to determine causes and more satisfactory methods of treatment. Until such time as newer methods are developed, early diagnosis and prompt removal seems to be the most effective method of treatment available, though X-ray and radium treatments are useful in some cases.

Questions and Answers

N. N.: How can a person tell if he has tuberculosis of the throat?

Answer: Tuberculosis of the larynx or voice-box would cause continued hoarseness. Other symptoms of tuberculosis, such as loss of weight and strength, are usually present.

Of course, if tuberculosis is suspected, a thorough examination by a physician should be carried out at once.

NEW YORK

EVER been around the world in a single date?

That's the way I wave a e my pocketbook is a basis fun pleasure-bent is support a y s' hey I buy a hypothetical hop to anywhere I choose and enjoy it at home.

It's the cheap way to have a two ... leave as cheaply as one. I g ... can ... take France along ... scatter $5 tips like grass seed.

... to look at museums I never wanted to see. I don't have to admire the dilapidated grandeur of ... ual ... pointed out by a guide who ... ragged ... nature doesn't ... be the ... has tired of them too. I don't have to fall for Niagara Falls or lean toward the Leaning Tower of Pisa—unless my bent inclines that way. I ... have to get accustomed to the ... customs, to be a ... some ... the customs men.

Hal Boyle

Like Stephen Leacock's ... I can jump on my horse and ride ... in all directions—at once. Hiya!

I have an old game I've been playing Walter Mitty style since I was eleven—go to a Rand-McNally. It's called "Supposing." It begins with "Supposing somebody gave you $10,000 and said you could have anywhere in the world. Where'd you go?"

YOU GET OUT the atlas and the battered school geography—the big one you used to hide your Frank Merriwell book inside during class. Then you figure out where your money will buy the most adventure—and you soak ... in your jet-propelled imagination.

Over the years I've changed my mind often about where I'd like to spend the $10,000 donated by the mysterious stranger. As a child I was fascinated with pictures of strange faroff places. I suppose my first choice now as then would be to spend three months taking the pulse of the heart of darkest Africa. But I also suppose they throb the tom-toms now on a drum manufactured from darkest London.

DURING THE WAR, I was in 51 countries. Many were lands I had yearned to see in boyhood but they draw me no more, particularly the large sick civilized places. Too many of them have "American bars" and specialize in "Yankee malted milks," innocent ice cream and offbeat jazz bands guilty of musical murder.

But omitting the out-of-the-way places like the Brazilian jungle and the Isle of Bali where the slim brown girls walk with water jugs on their heads, graceful as panthers, I'd most like to see three countries I missed—New Zealand, Finland and Ireland.

New Zealand was the only country I didn't get to visit in the Far East. I'd like to go there because other travelers have told me it is the most civilized country in the world and people live longer there than anywhere else. I'd like to find out why.

WHY IRELAND? Not so much because it's green and beautiful but because every American in his heart wants to go back and see where his ancestors came from. I want to check up on whether the English really ran my grandfather out—as he said—or whether his neighbors did.

As for Finland, no one I've known who has been there has anything but admiration for the honesty and courage of its people. I want to have a look at this small tough land whose independence even the Russians have come to respect.

There goes my mythical $10,000. Can't ... give me a 10 g and time. Where would you spend yours in a wonderful one-date journey?

Hearing Date Set On Kenton Train Removal

The Ohio utilities commission has set July 22 for hearing on the New York Central railroad's request for permission to remove two passenger trains from service on the Columbus-Toledo run.

They were discontinued in March under a temporary ODT fuel saving order during the coal strike and returned to service on Monday of this week after objections to discontinuing them had been lodged with the utilities commission and the railroad by communities served including Kenton and Marysville.

Abandonment of the runs would virtually end passenger service on the Toledo-Columbus line. One is a northbound morning train and the other a southbound afternoon train.

The commission will hear the railroad's request for similar action on two trains of the Columbus-Charleston run July 20.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"Of course I'll excuse you," Olina said quickly. "Don't bother with polite phrases. I can guess that your father is in a hurry."

"Junior would say 'And how!'" I said as I took the receiver down again, and asked for Dicky's studio.

"Hello!" he said when he took down the receiver. "Oh, Madge! What's on your mind?"

"Plenty," I told him shortly. "Father is evidently in a tearing hurry as usual, but he wants his colloquy with Faith first. Also he wants no delay about her getting down here."

"I'll bring her down immediately," Dicky said.

"But you can't," I told him.

"For the love of Abraham and all the other bearded patriarchs, why not?" he demanded.

"Will you please stop talking and listen?" I asked tartly.

"I'm already dumb," he said, and I heard Faith's giggle close to him.

"Give Faith an errand in the other part of the room," I murmured. "She mustn't hear this."

"Oh." Dicky's voice was startled now. "I get you. And we'll hurry. Faith," his voice veered from the receiver, "will you please go over and put all my pencils in their box for me? We have to hurry down stairs. Thank you. Now then?" His voice came back to me.

"Faith must come to an apartment empty save for her grandfather and for me," I said. "Our guests must have departed. I will give you a ring the second it's safe to bring her. But have her in readiness to start in a split second. Father has spent more time here than he had planned and—"

"Is rarin' to go," he finished. "Okay. Faith and I will have our toes on the mark with the door standing open ready to sprint at the signal."

"I hope you do," I said as I heard Faith's delighted giggle again. "Good bye!" and I hung up the receiver. Olina was standing near the outside door, and she smiled knowingly at me when I looked at her.

"I thought I'd better not delay the game either," she said. "I'll be ready for my august father-in-law's escort back to Manya as soon as his farewells with your father are exchanged."

"That will take a few seconds," I told her dryly, and she smiled again.

"Aren't they the old darlings?" she queried, but I had no opportunity to reply save by a nod, for the knocker sounded at the same instant. I went to the door and admitted Philip Veritzen and my father.

"Philip and I already have exchanged our adieux," my father announced, and I had an insane desire to giggle, knowing that Olina must be pressing back the same impulse.

"Ah, my dear," he went on with approval in his voice as he saw Olina's position, "I see that you understand my haste. Thank you."

He bent formally over her hand, as Philip bent over mine. Then Philip had taken his step-daughter away, and I started for the telephone.

"Richard and Faith are ready?" he asked, and I told myself that the query really was unnecessary. As was Queen Victoria, he, too, was always sure that a chair would be in readiness behind him.

"All ready to start out the door when I give the signal," I said. "But I want to be sure that Philip and Olina are not in the corridor when Faith and Dicky come down."

"Give yourself no more uneasiness on that score," he said. "Philip bade the elevator man wait until she and Olina should come out again. They are safe in their apartments by this time."

"Then," I said, "Dicky and Faith will be down here in another minute," and I took down the receiver, calling my husband's penthouse studio.

Says Taft Line Only One Holding Firm

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, June 16—Political jockeying, replete with claims and counter claims by presidential campaign managers, mounted in intensity today with the approach of the Republican national convention Monday.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, told a news conference that "there has been a break in all but the Taft forces."

Brown asserted that President Truman's repeated attacks on congress strengthened support of the Ohio senator throughout the various delegations.

"Doc sure has something there!"

It's no trick at all, Doc tells me, to take out an appendix. The tough job, he says, and the important one is knowing whether it is the appendix that's causing the trouble.

Same way with cars. Anybody who calls himself a mechanic can fix cars when somebody tells him and shows him exactly what's causing poor performance.

But the fellow who can spot the complaint right off—without costly, time-wasting guesswork and experimenting—there's a real serviceman.

And that's the only kind we have at our Dodge and Plymouth headquarters here. Fact is, our boys are so skilled that they don't even think they know it all.

Right now every last one of them is enrolled in the Master Technicians Service Conference. This is post-graduate education in engineering principles ... in the fastest, surest ways of finding mechanical difficulties ... in all the newest and best service techniques.

Doc, himself, says these mechanics are tops when it comes to check-ups and diagnosis. But don't take his word for it —bring in your car and see for yourself. You'll say you never saw such thorough service.

Marion Snaps 7-Game Losing Streak with 9-3 Win over Zanesville

Jim Edgar Provides Pitching, Bobzean the Winning Punch

Special to The Star

ZANESVILLE, June 16—Gene Bobzean contributed the punch and Jim Edgar provided the pitching as the Marion Cubs took the first game of their series with Zanesville here last night, 9 to 3.

The Bruins' win ended a seven-game skein of losses and pushed them up from seventh place into a virtual three-way tie with Newark and Lima for the Ohio-Indiana's fifth place. All three clubs are nine and one-half games behind the leading Muncie Reds.

Bobzean batted in five of the Cubs' runs. He doubled in two in the first, drove in a third with a fielder's choice tap to shortstop Don Thomas in the third, and hit a home run over the left field fence with one on in the fifth.

Shutout Into 9th

Edgar had a four-hit shutout going into the ninth but three hits and two errors by his mates enabled the Dodgers to tally three runs.

Irv Renollet, Zanesville's leading hurler, found himself in trouble at the start when Bohlander and Neukirch singled and Bekeza walked to fill the bases with none out. After Bolduc flied to short right, Bohlander stole home and then Bobzean came through with his double.

Neukirch, Bekeza, Bolduc and King hit singles in the third for three runs and in the fifth Bekeza singled to set the stage for Bobzean's homer. After King and Schmitt walked, Renollet was replaced by Dano Tallevi who tossed one-hit ball the rest of the way. He gave up a run in the eighth, however when King walked, Schnepf doubled and Edgar flied to center.

Sports Shorts

By BILL DEEN
Star Sports Editor

THE general pronouncement about town on learning that backstopper-gardener Bob Shuford had been released from the Marion Cubs was, in effect, "It sure takes a lot of guts to release a .330 hitter" . . . And it probably did, for recently hitting has overshadowed pitching as the Bruin's big shortcoming, and big Bob Shuford was a powerful hitter. He departed this club with a .324 average—35 safeties in 108 trips—with 25 runs batted in to his credit (only two had driven in more), with 15 doubles (three less than the leader, Bill Bolduc), one triple, and three homers (one less than the leader, Don Schmitt).

BUT BOB ALSO had his drawbacks, and Cub Manager Zeke Bekeza felt these balanced his hitting in favor of some other club. The other club in this case, not Elizabethton, Tenn., as it was at first believed, but his owners, the Selma, Ala. Cubs figured his drawbacks out-balanced him clear out of baseball, and they gave him an unconditional release.

Bob, an outfielder with the Cubs last year, was sent here from Selma as a catcher, but he admitted he couldn't catch. As an agriculturist plucking baseballs from his right field garden, he was nearly as ineffective, his most recent failing in that department earning him the credit, in the opinion of the Cub moguls and the fans attending the game though not the scorekeeper's, for Muncie's 4 to 2 victory over the locals in Sunday's second game in the Indiana city.

In the fourth inning of that game, Muncie's Frankie Santora stepped up to the plate with one run in and the bases loaded, two away. He lifted the ball to Shuford in right, but Shus let it bounce off his glove and it went for a hit, lengthening into a triple while big Bob fumbled about his pasture attempting to pick it up. The Cubs failed to overcome the four run lead and took the loss.

BUT PROBABLY the deciding factor in his release was that he was in his third year in class D baseball. He had failed to advance in two previous seasons; and the chances were growing increasingly slimmer that he would improve this year.

Lou Castrovince, who was released along with Shuford, though a somewhat dangerous hitter, was never any great shakes as a third baseman, and his appearance during the last month had been largely in the role of a pinch hitter. He left with a .270 average.

Mangrum Is Favorite In Victory Tournament

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 16—Slender Lloyd Mangrum rates the favorite in the $15,000 Chicago Victory golf tournament opening tomorrow, and if he wins he regains the money-earning lead from Ben Hogan.

Mangrum's target will be a $2,000 first prize in the 72-hole, four-day medal meet over the rolling acres of the swank Midlothian Country club. If the 1946 National Open champion hits, he will boost his swag for the season to $17,944. This would put him nearly $400 ahead of Beltin' Ben who has totaled $17,597 for the leadership with his successive triumphs in the National PGA and Open.

Ben is making a movie short in Hollywood instead of coming to Chicago to defend the victory crown he won last year.

LEMON SUFFERS 4TH LOSS—TO BOSOX, 7-3

Tribe Acquires Sam Zoldak in Brown Trade.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 16 — Bob Lemon suffered his fourth loss to the Boston Red Sox last night on the heels of Bob Feller's sixth setback at the hands of the New York Yankees — but the Cleveland Indians completed a deal before the midnight trading deadline last night designed to strengthen their pitching staff.

Sam Zoldak, one of the sought-after St. Louis players in the Browns' "bargain basement" sale last winter, was obtained by Tribe President Bill Veeck in exchange for rookie left-hander Bill Kennedy, another Cleveland player to be named later and a "large amount of cash."

The 28-year-old southpaw won nine and lost 10 last year, an outstanding record with the cellar-dwelling Browns, and had an earned run average of 3.47. Kennedy was the Indians' No. 1 draft choice this winter, but showed promise only in a winning start against the Chicago White Sox.

The Indians, clubbed 7-3 in the opener of a long home stand by Boston before 51,380 stadium fans, held their three-game margin over the Philadelphia Athletics, who were defeated by Detroit. The third-place Yankees, five games behind the Tribe, also failed to gain when they were edged by the White Sox in an 11-inning tilt.

Lemon permitted only one single until the sixth inning of last night's tilt, but errors by Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Tipton gave Boston a 1-0 lead without any hits in the fifth.

The Bosox drove Lemon to the showers in the seventh with three runs on three hits, charging him with his fourth setback against nine wins, the top victory total in the major leagues.

Feller was named to oppose Joe Dobson today in the second tilt of the three-game series as the Indians attempt to regain the victory trail after two straight losses.

CYCLE RACE SUNDAY

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 16—The Kenton Lightning Riders Motorcycle club is planning a program of motorcycle races at the Wyandot county fairground at Upper Sandusky Sunday. Nine events are slated for the program to start at 2:30 p. m. An especially good class of novice riders is expected to participate with other amateur cyclists. Time trials will start at 11 a. m.

Newhouser Twirls Two-Hitter As Tigers Triumph Over Mackmen, 4-1

By The Associated Press

The inauguration of night baseball in Detroit proved a smashing success—thanks to the strong left arm of Hal Newhouser.

The star Tiger southpaw, pitching the first home night game in Detroit history, gave added proof last night he still was the best lefthander in the American league when he twirled a two-hit 4-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

It was the seventh successive victory for Newhouser and the fifth in a row for the Tigers.

A near-capacity crowd of 54,480 which came to view the new $400,000 lighting plant saw the Tiger outfield provide Newhouser with all the backing he needed. Leftfielder Dick Wakefield belted his third home run of the season, rightfielder Pat Mullin smashed his ninth four-bagger and centerfielder Hoot Evers batted in the other two runs with a pair of singles.

Fifth Night Win

It was Detroit's fifth success in six night engagements, the best record of any club in the majors. It also narrowed the third-place New York Yankees' lead to only two games. The Yankees were beaten by the White Sox 9-8 in an 11-inning thriller in Chicago.

Barney McCoskey crashed into the concrete wall while attempting to catch Wakefield's home run drive in the eighth and was carried off the field on a stretcher. It was believed the A's leftfielder escaped with a bruised back.

The Yankees overcame a seven-run third inning by the White Sox to deadlock their game 8-8 in the eighth, but the Sox came back with a run in the last of the 11th to win. A single by Taft Wright, a two-base wild throw by catcher Yogi Berra in an attempt to nip the stealing Wright, and pitcher Earl Caldwell's deep fly accounted for the winning run. It was Berra who forced the game into overtime with a three-run homer in the eighth.

Spoil Homecoming

The Boston Red Sox spoiled Cleveland's homecoming by handing the Indians a 7-3 setback in a night game in Cleveland. The American league leaders, however, retained their three-game bulge over the runner-up A's.

Southpaw rookie Mel Parnell gained his second victory of the season with a neat seven-hitter in outpitching Bob Lemon.

Johnny Sain pitched the Boston Braves into undisputed possession of the National league lead by defeating the Chicago Cubs in a night game in Boston, 6-3. Sain allowed only six hits in chalking up his seventh victory.

Boston's win, coupled with Pittsburgh's 2-0 victory over the Giants in New York enabled the Braves to break their first-place deadlock with the Giants. The Polo Grounders fell into a second-place tie with Pittsburgh.

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals remained a game and a half off the pace by edging out the Phillies 2-1 in a night game in Philadelphia. The sixth-place Dodgers nipped the Cincinnati Reds 5-4 in Brooklyn. It was the only game played in daylight.

The scheduled night game between the Washington Senators and the Browns in St. Louis was postponed because of rain and wet grounds.

NEW CO-ED GOLF CHAMP IS CERTAIN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 16 — A new champion was a certainty today as the fourth annual Women's Collegiate golf tournament moved into the round of eight.

Still favored to be that queen of the collegiate links was Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., the John B. Stetson university entry and Curtis Cup star.

Miss Lenczyk, the runner-up last year, sailed right through the first round yesterday with a 6 and 5 conquest of Marilyn Herpel of Washington University, St. Louis.

Shirley Spork of Michigan State Normal, conqueror of Miss Lenczyk in last year's finals, dropped out of the running yesterday in the day's only out-and-out upset.

Alice O'Neal, former Indiana women's champion from Rollins College, toppled the reigning titlist, two and one.

Miss Lenczyk, firing at the top of her skill, is paired today against Nancy Porter of the University of North Carolina.

Oldest and Youngest Members Of Olympic Team May Well Be Ohioans

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, June 16—Ohio may furnish both the youngest and oldest members of the 1948 U. S. Olympic team.

The oldest competitor would be Dave Albritton, one of Uncle Sam's high jumpers in the last Olympiad back in 1936.

The youngest might well be 17-year-old Gene Cole, the Lancaster high school phenom, who holds an unofficial national scholastic record of 48 seconds flat in the 440-yard dash.

Albritton has been high jumping, counting his earliest school boy efforts, since about the time Cole was born. Now well into his 30s, the tall Albritton still is going strong.

Dayton Coach

As coach of the Dayton Dunbar High school team he won the state scholastic class A championship last month. As a competitor he topped the field in meet after meet during last winter's indoor season and won the Ohio A A U title last weekend.

Dave and Cornelius Johnson were co-holders of the world's record of six feet 9¾ inches from 1936 until 1941. In the latter year Les Steers went over the bar at 6 11" for a new mark.

Albritton doesn't get quite that much altitude any more but his feet still don't drag the ground and he ought to acquire a ticket to the London games in August.

By contrast, Cole never donned a pair of spiked shoes until this spring. Then his high school inaugurated track for the first time in years and Coach Barney Francis soon found he had a prodigy on his hands.

Cole breezed to state scholastic triumphs in the 100 220 and 440 becoming the first triple winner since Jesse Owens in 1932.

About the only better quarter-mile performances this year have been turned in by Herb McKenley, who'll represent Great Britain in the Olympics and another schoolboy Ollie Matson of San Francisco.

Some Duel

A Cole-Matson duel should be something to watch. Incidentally Matson was clocked in 47.1 when he finished second to McKenley at Berkeley Cal. recently. The mark didn't go in the books, however since he wasn't a winner.

The next important test for both Cole and Albritton will come two weeks hence since neither is eligible for the NCAA meet at Minneapolis this weekend. Both will be on deck for the National A.A.U. at Milwaukee July 2 and 3.

Then if youth and age make the grade the next stop is the Olympic trial at Evanston July 9 and 10.

COMPANY C RETAINS COMMERCIAL LEAD

Company C continued to be the toast of Commercial league softball last night, taking a last-inning win from Bird-McGinnis 2-1. Kunkle permitted the Post two hits over the seven inning route and Wilcox gave up six as the game went into the last of the seventh one-up. Pauling then slapped a homer to ice the game for the Guards.

In other games in the league W and W downed the Jaycees, 7-2. M M P romped over Eagles, 13-4 and Shantytown gained a shutout in a game with Farm Bureau, 3-0.

Guy Lewis, pitching for W and W slammed out a homer for the chief blow of a five-hit attack that netted five runs for the winners in the first. The Jaycees scored two runs in the third before W and W added two more in the bottom of the sixth. Hits ran 8 to 5 in W and W's favor.

Ivey hit safely four for five to pace the M.M.P in nicking the Eagles Artripe for 21 hits. England homered in the sixth. Taylor of Shantytown shutout the Bureau on two hits, and Moore knocked a round tripper for the winners.

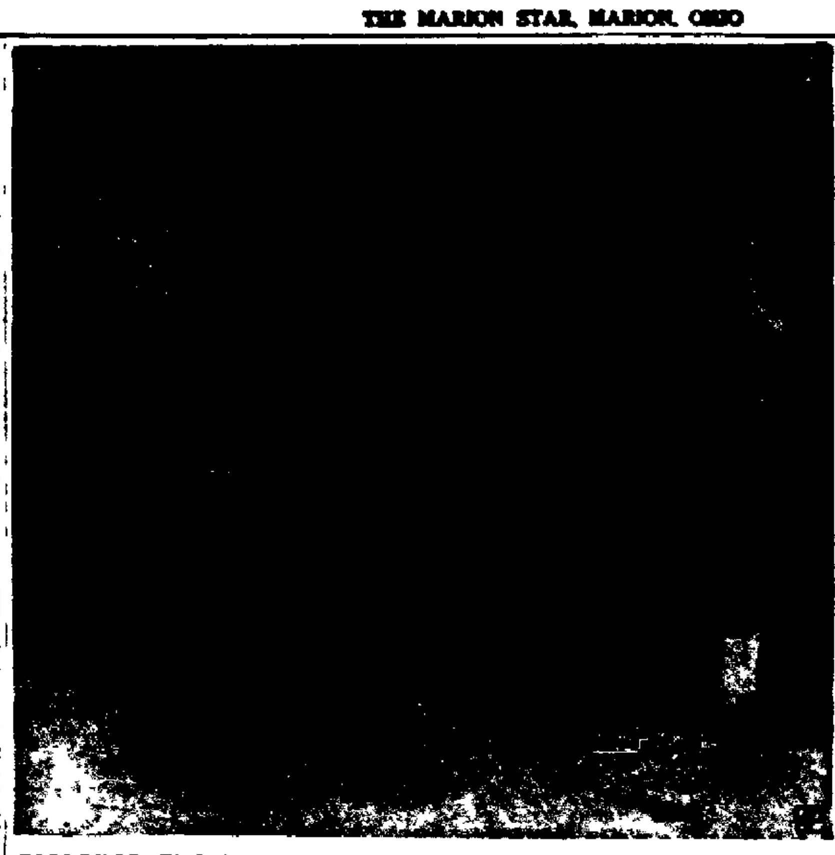
PLEASANT CLUB MEETS

Pleasant Sparklers' 4-H club held a meeting June 9 at the Pleasant school. A decision was reached to hold extra meetings for the continuation of a community project for making towels for the school. Donna Rowland was a guest at the meeting, and Phyllis McClung, Mary Pilkington, and Darlene Wortman gave demonstrations. Last year's projects are being demonstrated for the Pleasant Juniors and Busy Bakers by Mary Pilkington and Shirley Zuspan.



VIOLENCE IN DAYTON STRIKE. Fists flew early yesterday in Dayton as a back to-work attempt by non-striking Univis Lens employes ground to a dead halt in the face of a well-organized picket line now in its 42nd day. Company officials criticized "the uncooperative attitude" of Dayton police and said they would seek a second injunction in common pleas court limiting the number of pickets. Between 500 and 800 pickets jammed the entire length of the sidewalk in front of the plant. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

NEUN PICKS VANDY TO HALT BROOKLYN

Reds Absorb Sixth Loss to Dodgers, 5-4.

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN June 16—Johnny Neun and the Cincinnati Reds looked to an old-timer today to narrow the gap between themselves and the sixth place Dodgers.

He was Johnny Vander Meer whose first major league home run gave him a 3-2 victory over the Boston Braves last Saturday.

Leo Durocher planned to have Ralph Branca, a 21-game winner last year, extend the Brooklyn victory string over the Reds.

The Reds absorbed their sixth defeat in seven meetings with the Dodgers yesterday 5-4. Although knotting the score in the ninth, the Reds chances died with Harry Gumbert's fly to Hermanski. Two men were on base.

Hank Sauer doubled two men home to raise his run batted in total to 50.

Herman Wehmeier who was knicked for eight hits and three runs in seven innings as his mates made three errors escaped being charged with the loss. Gumbert, the loser, added to his own troubles with a wild throw to first on a bunt. The bunter, Gil Hodges, became the winning run.

Tennis World Marvels at "New" Don Budge

By International News Service

FOREST HILLS, N Y June 16—Professional tennis observers marveled today at the "new" Don Budge. The California redhead has played the best tennis of his career in the current national professional tennis championship.

Budge is seeded No. 3 behind defending champion Bobby Riggs and Jack Kramer. However after his brilliant performance yesterday in which he lost but one game to Jerry Adler in three sets, Budge admitted that he had never served so well, even in his Wimbledon and Davis Cup days.

Budge took only 35 minutes to eliminate Adler and advance into the quarter final round with the top-seeded foreign entry Dinny Pails. Pails, former Australian Davis Cupper, ousted Wayne Sabin, Bretton Woods N H.

AA RACE TIGHTENS, MILWAUKEE GAINS

By The Associated Press

Indianapolis American Association lead had dwindled to 3½ games today as the Tribe lost to St. Paul and the second-place Milwaukee Brewers scored a shutout over Columbus.

Glenn Elliott hurled a four-hitter to give the Brews a 3-0 win over the Redbirds. Milwaukee scored all its runs in the seventh inning on a combination of singles by Marv Rickert, Paul Burris and Norm Ozark, an error and a backfiring intentional pass.

Columbus filled the bags in the third with none out, but Elliott started a double play via home plate on Ben Steiner's grounder. He allowed only one Red Bird to reach second base after that as the Brews hung up their ninth triumph in their last 10 starts.

Despite a three-run eighth inning which kayoed Phil Haugstad, Indianapolis lost 6-4 to the Saints. Starter Edson Bahr gave up five of the St. Paul's six runs and was tagged with the defeat. Eric Tipton hit his 14th homer of the campaign for the third-place Saints.

Toledo bested Minneapolis 5-2 behind lefty Chet Johnson's five-hitter.

Louisville hopped on Dave Madison for four runs in the first inning and whaled six more in the third off Jim Arnold to romp over the Kansas City Blues 10-3.

BIG ISLAND CLUB MEETS

A meeting of the Big Island 4-H club was held at the township house June 11 and plans were discussed for painting mailboxes. Discussions were held on judging classes and livestock and a judging tour to be held later. Donald Johnson presided at the meeting.

2ND DIVISION RACE HOTTER THAN 1ST

By The Associated Press

The race for fifth place in the Ohio-Indiana baseball league was even more torrid today than the race for first place.

Muncie holds the league lead over Springfield by one percentage point .652 to .651.

Fifth place Newark has .448 to .447 for sixth-place Marion and .444 for seventh-place Lima.

Newark took over the top spot in the second division last night by defeating Lima 6-5. In the night's only other game third-place Zanesville lost to Marion 9-3. Portsmouth at Muncie and Springfield at Richmond were rained out.

Dick McEvoy, Newark's relief specialist, saved the game last night, shutting off Lima's late inning rallies to score his sixth win—all in relief. Newark Manager Bob Dill was chased by Umpire Pat Shanner in the ninth for protesting a decision at home plate. In the same inning Lima Manager Charley Engle announced he was playing the game under protest after Shanner ruled time was out when a Lima runner scored.

Springfield's bus was involved in a minor accident enroute to Richmond. No one was hurt. The bus skidded into a bridge on route 40 near Dayton.

MARTEL GRANGE MEETS

A meeting of Martel Grange was held Tuesday June 8 in the Martel school auditorium with Kenneth Pangborn, master in charge. Two persons were given the obligation in the first four degrees. During the social hour, Mrs. Clyde Logan, Grange lecturer, was complimented with a surprise birthday party. She was presented with a decorated cake and the group sang "Happy Birthday." Refreshments were served by Mrs Pangborn, Mrs Ward Sharrock and Misses Shirley and Lois Pangborn.

Wesley Methodist Church Group Meets

A meeting of the general W.S.C.S. of Wesley Methodist church was held Thursday, June 10, at the church.

A communication from the P-T.A. of Michigan Avenue school in Columbus was read thanking the organization for the luncheon served at the recent P-T.A. conference held in Marion, and the group voted to retain the present officers until June, 1949. A contribution of $10 was given for a "Care" package.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Twylla Milton, followed by prayer by Dr Edwin A. Brown, church pastor. Guest speaker for the program was Juvenile and Probate Judge Edward J Jumps, who spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency" and showed two films dealing with this subject. A solo was given by Miss Martha Ekey and prayer was by Mrs. R. O. Smallwood. Circle 4 of the group was in charge of the program.

EMPIRE STEEL GROUP IN NEW CORPORATION

By The United Press

COLUMBUS June 16—A new steel company under the name of Penn-Ohio State Corp was formed here and has leased the naval industrial reserve plant at Birdsboro Pa, it was announced here today.

Samuel E. Magid, executive of the Ralston Steel Car Co here and vice president of the New York investment firm of Hill, Thompson & Co was named chairman of the board of the new ingot company which expects to be in production within 30 days.

Magid formed the company with a group of former officers of the Empire Steel Corp of Mansfield, which was recently sold to the Studebaker Corp.

Joseph H Montgomery Jr of Mansfield, formerly chairman of the board and president of Empire, was named president of the new corporation. Main offices will be in Birdsboro.

"The contemplated production" Montgomery said, "will be expanded in such a manner as to result in a new steel industry that will provide the Navy with a greatly expanded reserve steel producing capacity."

LAST STEAM LOCOMOTIVE CHUGS OUT OF FACTORY

By The Associated Press

SCHENECTADY, N Y, June 16—The last steam locomotive from the century-old American Locomotive Co plant chugged away today, and all hands turned to diesel-electric production.

The change "is a matter of demand," Vice President P T Egbert said. The company has invested $20,000,000 to convert its manufacturing facilities and expects the 1948 diesel output to top last year's by 50 per cent, Egbert reported.

Much of the equipment used in making steam locomotives will be "mothballed," he said, so that the company can handle any "unforeseen" orders.

The last steam engine went to Cleveland, for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad.

Refrigeration Dealers Hold Conference Here

Dealers and sales personnel of the Frigidaire Corporation in Marion, Morrow, Wyandot, Crawford and Knox counties are meeting for a one-day conference today at Hotel Harding. There was a luncheon at noon with approximately 40 present.

Here for the meeting, which is being held to acquaint dealers and salesmen with the corporation's newest products and to discuss the general business program, are S S. Mailstrup of Cleveland, sales promotion and advertising manager of the Cleveland branch, C A. Alvey, range specialist, and P Annau, representing the sales promotion department, both from the home offices at Dayton. The H Schaffner Co is the local firm in attendance at the meeting.

MARSHALL ASSAILS FUNDS CUT. Talking to two members of the Senate Appropriations committee, Secretary of State George C. Marshall (right) is shown before he told legislators in Washington that House cuts in foreign aid funds were "dangerous" economies. He stressed the "psychological effect" the move would have on the non-communist countries in Europe. At left is Sen Joseph O'Mahoney. Next to him is Sen. Styles Bridges.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 16—Light selling pressure was enough to lower stock prices fractions to around a point in today's market.

In the flurry of activity at the opening, the market started on a downtrend. Activity slackened but the trend continued.

Even the highly popular oil group inclined lower. Sinclair Oil, Texas Co and Standard Oil (NJ) all lost fractions. Standard Oil has been a bellwether of the market for some time.

Others in the minus column included U S Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar Tractor, American Telephone, Anaconda, Philip Morris, Northern Pacific, and Illinois Central.

Holding against the trend were Goodyear, Firestone Tire, National Distillers, and Consolidated Edison.

GALION CONFRONTED BY FUND PROBLEMS

Special to The Star

GALION, June 16—With vetoes on a resolution and an ordinance by Mayor H. H. Hartmann as an economy measure, city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night was called upon by council president, Otto Pfeifer to find ways and means of securing additional funds on which to operate the city's business. Mr Pfeifer declared "the city is now being operated on a shoestring." He made his statement more emphatic after the reading of a new ordinance, declared an emergency measure, asking for wage and salary increases and adjusted working conditions of employes in various departments of the city. This ordinance which called for increases of approximately $15 a month for salaried employes and from 10 to 30 cents per hour for other employes in various departments of the city was referred to the finance committee.

The mayor's veto was placed on the resolution which authorized the city engineer to prepare plans and estimates for the improvement by paving of one block of West Church street. A motion to accept this veto was not seconded. Council did accept the mayor's veto on the ordinance which called for the purchase of a new mowing machine.

Mayor Hartmann explained to residents of Church street who were present that he had vetoed the measure to pave the street because it was already too late in the season to do the work now, and also because the city could not afford to make the improvement. He did promise the residents that something would be done for the drainage problem on the street.

Fire Damages Garage On Fairground Street

A fire at 8.41 a. m today at the home of Harold D Coffey at 281 West Fairground street resulted in damage estimated at $50 to a garage. The blaze originated in a pile of rubbish at the side of the building. Firemen from the East Mark street station responded.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

KING GUSTAF V, born June 16, 1858, has ruled Sweden since 1907.

He has given up much of the royal power to give the people more voice in government. He lives simply and played tennis until he was 90. He scorned golf, calling it an old man's game. His action often is credited with a big part in keeping Sweden neutral in both World Wars.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The first contingent of Republican candidates arrived in Philadelphia gnawing on their K-rations. Considering what they've been through they look fine.

• • •

Reception arrangements have been worked out to perfection. The committee has candidates unloading at three stations simultaneously and each gets five minutes on the back platform.

• • •

Philadelphia expects 30 thousand visitors. Not bad for a team that's been out of the first division for 16 years.

• • •

But at the moment there is a shortage of convention seats and a surplus of smoke-filled rooms. This means no candidate on the first ballot.

• • •

On the second ballot there will be some trading and a favorite candidate will withdraw.

• • •

On the fourth ballot there will be some trading and everybody will withdraw.
